

NATURAL, CONTEMPORARY & STYLISH WEDDING PHOTOGRAPHY

Why do we do what we do? Some wedding photographers do it for the money. Others claim a passion for photography. We do it because we love to see the look on a bride's face when she sees her wonderful set of images which she and her husband will treasure for the rest of their lives together.

Our goal is simply to delight you with fantastic images of your wedding day taken in a discreet, friendly and professional manner. From the details of the day, your painstaking selections of flowers, decorations, colour schemes, dresses and shoes; to the key moments of preparations, the first sight of each other, the ceremony, the first kiss, speeches and the first dance. We capture the pure emotion and enjoyment of the day, the laughter and tears and the little glances between you which mean so much.

Our favourite images occur when you are completely at your ease, enjoying the company of family & friends and not posing unnaturally. To ensure you are comfortable being photographed and to build our relationship we hold a pre-wedding shoot a few weeks before the wedding. This allows us to get to know each other better and see what works well for you. You will see how good you look in our images, which is great for building up your confidence. This allows you to relax more on the day and not worry about how your images will turn out. Wedding guests often think we are your friends at the wedding as we already have this relationship with you.

Most people prefer our contemporary style of discreet “reportage” photography, compared to the traditional method of many hours of formal family group photos. We are very happy to arrange a small number of group images for you, including the wedding party, parents, close family & friends, etc, typically spending no more than 30 minutes on the day. We arrange these groups as efficiently as possible, allowing you to spend more time enjoying the day with your guests. We do include an “everybody” group shot as a memento of the day (and so nobody feels left out!)

Working as a team of two photographers allows us to make the most of our time with you as well as ensuring we capture more natural images of you and your guests – you may see one photographer walking around but will miss the second one capturing a more natural image from a different angle. People often prefer the natural images to the formal posed variety.

Your most memorable moments will be just the two of you as a couple. During the day we will create the opportunity to be alone with you to capture special romantic images whilst allowing you to have some quiet time together. This can take only 5-10 minutes depending on your schedule for the day.

We provide an all-inclusive service with coverage from your bridal preparations right through to the first dance and beyond in the evening to document the atmosphere of the party. If you have a band playing or fireworks then we will often stay on longer to make the most of these photo opportunities, with no additional charge.

During your meal we select 40-50 of your best images producing a slide show which we display on a TV screen during the evening reception. The feedback we receive from this is always fantastic - evening guests can see what they have missed, you can see each other getting ready and everyone can see just how amazing you look. It is a great talking point, as nobody can believe you have received your wonderful images so quickly.

Before we leave, you will also receive our exclusive “going away” album containing twelve great images telling the story of your day. This is designed to go in your handbag and away on the honeymoon with you acting as a wonderful memory of your wedding. This is a great way to show off your images immediately afterwards.

If you are on Facebook we will upload highlights from your slide show very shortly after the wedding. This is another great way to share the day with friends especially those who could not be there in person.

After the excitement of your wedding and the honeymoon, you still have the viewing of your wedding photos to look forward to. While you are away we remove any duplicates, images where you have your eyes closed or are not looking your very best. At your viewing we present you with a complete record of your wedding day - around 400 great proof images in a high quality proof book and set to music on a DVD. This viewing DVD is an ideal way to re-live the day with family and friends, as you can easily carry it with you and view the images on a TV screen. The proof images are also uploaded on to our web site where guests can view them and purchase prints online if they wish. The only complaint we ever get is “there are too many great photos!”.

The next step is for you to select the images you would like to have in your album. We will produce an album design using these images for your approval before your final album is completed. Our albums and packages are detailed later in this brochure. You can customise any package to meet your exact requirements, or call us to discuss your needs in more detail.

Adam works as a full time professional photographer based out of his studio near Camberley in Surrey. Working together with his wife Jan, or one of his team of experienced photographers, he provides high quality wedding and portrait photography across Southern England and beyond. As a full time professional photographer and a qualified licentiate of the MPA, Adam is fully insured and carries backup equipment for everything - your day is too important to leave anything to chance!

As part of our open and honest “treat people as you would like to be treated” approach, all of our prices are fully inclusive, include VAT and there are no hidden fees or charges. We offer wonderful customer service, extra attention to detail, a great eye for a fantastic image together with traditional and modern albums, wall displays, prints and online media.

Call us now for an appointment and have a coffee with us. We can talk about your wedding plans and discuss the kind of images you would like to have to remember your day. You can view examples of our work in detail and see if we are the photographers you would enjoy having at your wedding.

We can provide gift vouchers in denominations from £20 up to £500 which can be added to your wedding list. Guests will receive each voucher in a presentation box wrapped ready to present to you on your wedding day. These vouchers can be used to upgrade your package or simply to add images to your preferred album.

Contemporary Albums

You will want to display your wedding images in the best possible style and quality so we have selected the finest range of album options and displays available at a range of price levels. Our Bronze package comes with a beautiful contemporary album with an inlaid photo and your names embossed on the front cover. This album is ideal for collections of 40-50 images. An image can be printed full page as a large 10" (25cm) square. This is a fantastic option for couples looking to display their wedding images within a beautiful album while keeping within a smaller budget.

Story Book Albums

The most popular albums in our selection are our story book albums, sometimes referred to as "coffee table books" or "magazine style albums". Images can be printed full spread completely across one or both pages in a style similar to a glossy magazine. Every design is individually produced to your requirements resulting in a unique bound book produced by our album partner in Italy. The cover can be one of a range of materials including leather, silk, brushed metal and a modern clear acrylic. The pages are photo quality paper bound to a thick card ensuring each page lays flat and panoramic images can be printed across the spine of the book.

Elegance Albums

For the ultimate in luxury and quality our Elegance albums are some of the finest wedding albums available anywhere in the world. Each album is hand made using the finest materials by the prestigious Queensberry album maker based in New Zealand. Your images can be produced in a traditional style with each appearing through its own aperture in the page, or combined with edge to edge printing in a unique blend of traditional and contemporary styles. Your album is housed in a wonderful presentation box making it the album to die for but also to treasure for ever.

Our packages are totally flexible - you can change any items or even complete packages at any time. As our coverage on your day is exactly the same in every package, you can simply book the date now and choose your package after the wedding, even after you have seen the images and have the proof book and DVD. When you know how many images you want to have in your album, then you can choose the exact package to meet your requirements. You can also add extra photographs to an album package for £15 per additional image.

To ensure we capture your wonderful memories from your day, complete the attached booking form and return it to us with your £250 retainer (the balance of your chosen package price is payable one month before the wedding). Alternatively call us to check our availability and we can confirm your booking using a credit or debit card over the phone.

Please remember there can be strong demand for many dates throughout the year and many popular dates are booked 12 months or more in advance. Some other dates can be booked at much shorter notice. Call us now to check our availability for your wedding day. Please note we are unable to hold dates without the completed booking form & retainer.
